

Meet Your Candidates For Student Body President

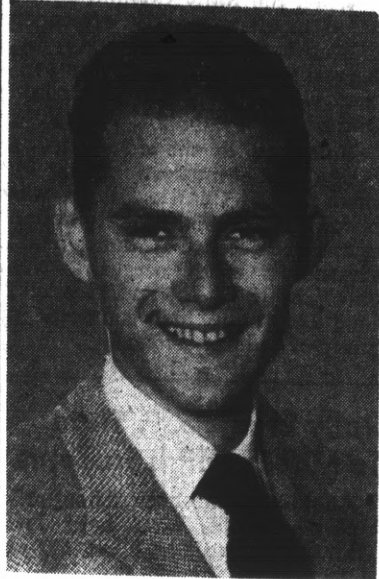

☆ NORRY VOLK ☆

This is the last in a series of articles on presidential candidates in this week's elections.

By Dale Tussing

"An open forum several times a semester for the expression of student opinion would be an aid to the student body feeling on issues." This is but one plank in presidential candidate Norry Volk's platform of maintaining student control of the Associated Students and liberalizing its mechanics.

Norry Volk has had a busy time at State. Since he transferred here from Brooklyn College as a high soph in September of 1950, he has been head of the rally committee, activities co-ordinator (a post which is now a paid administrative one), head of freshman orientation, and in charge of the rallies at the various city high schools. He is also working on the coming State Fair.

NORRY VOLK

ACTIVE STUDENT

He is now president of Delta Phi Gamma, and president of the Interfraternity Council. Last year he was treasurer of that organization.

In high school in New York, Norry was president of the Physics Club, a member of the board of publications, and business manager of an on-campus magazine. He was in the Music Guild, and music director for a broadcasting school radio station.

PLATFORM PLANKS

In addition to the above mentioned items, Norry's platform consists of the following major points: "To institute a Creative Arts Board of Control similar to the Athletic Board of Control, so that the Creative Arts students can have a little more to say about the administration of that program. 2. A welcome club for foreign students to better acquaint them with American family life. 3. A wider publicity program for activities of all groups—lectures, forums, exhibits—which is needed to intensify total participation and interest on campus."

Ray Hackett to Play For Dance Following Fair

Music for the dance following the State Fair on Friday, May 9, will be provided by Ray Hackett's orchestra, it was revealed Thursday at the meeting of the State Fair Planning Committee.

The dance will be from 9 to 1 o'clock at the new campus gym. Hackett's orchestra is composed of 11 pieces and a vocalist. The theme for the dance will be "Carousel Carnival."

Other activities planned for the fair have also been announced. There will be an AFROTC exhibit, an art show, a "field day" event, a fashion show presented by Bib 'n' Tucker service sorority, a puppet show, and a water show, as well as the carnival and food concessions.

Carnival booths will be open up to the time of the dance, and the food stand will be open until midnight.

Due to high rental costs, organizations were directed to plan on building their own booths. There was a proposal to the effect that one large booth be built for all organizations, and that it be divided by partitions for separate booths. No action will be taken on this proposal until tomorrow's meeting, in order that representatives might have time to consult their respective organizations.

Lighting for the State Fair will be provided by either a string of lights for the booths or spotlights situated on top of the gym.

Kappa Delta Pi President Speaks Here Tomorrow

Dr. Frank L. Wright of Washington University, the national executive president of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary education fraternity, will speak on campus tomorrow at 3 p.m.

"Educational problems in Europe" will be the topic of Dr. Wright's address. He will speak in Frederic Burk auditorium at a meeting sponsored by Gamma Sigma, the local chapter of Kappa Delta Pi. The meeting will be open to all interested student and faculty members.

ELECTION RESULTS AT BARN DANCE FRIDAY

Alpha Omega sorority will present its tenth annual Barn Dance Friday, April 25, from 9 to 12 p.m. in the old campus gym.

The student body election results will be announced publicly at the dance.

Howard Frederic's seven piece orchestra will provide the music for the evening.

The traditional barnyard scene with a slide, outhouse and hobbyhorses, will be set up, and apple cider and doughnuts will be served. Admission is 85 cents per person.

Joan Kurpinsky, vice-president of the sorority, is the general chairman for the affair.

Lila Gold is in charge of refreshments, Lorraine Arragona of tables and bids, Burly Malloran of the checking booth, Carol Hanson and Gerry Gartland of decorations, Connie Smith of lighting, and Diane Heagerty of publicity. Sigma Pi Sigma fraternity will serve as the floor committee.

'Othello' Set For Production in May

The College Players' fourth production of the Spring semester will be "Othello," one of the four great Shakespearean tragedies. The play is scheduled to open May 8, and will continue its run on May 9, 10, 15, 16, and 17 in Frederic Burk auditorium.

Jud Holstein, who was seen in a former State Shakespearean production, "Twelfth Night," is cast in the role of the Moor of Venice. Holstein also played the title role in "Henry IV," Part I, which was presented at Woodminster amphitheatre in the summer of 1950.

The villainous Iago will be portrayed by Ted Samuel, recently from the Pasadena Playhouse. Virginia Cox appears in the role of Desdemona.

Others in the cast include Dan Whiteside, Margery Werby, Dion Chesse, Jim Thursty, Dick Frewin, Marianne Peterson, Joe Carrillo, Ed Hosak, John Natale, and Alan Sims. The production is under the direction of Mr. Jules Irving.

Presidential Aspirants Clash At Poorly-Attended Rally

In one of the most controversial and poorly attended candidates' rallies in years, Harry Redlick, first of the presidential candidates to speak at Tuesday's election rally, lashed out at what he termed the "ruling clique" in student government on campus.

Referring to his opponents, Redlick stated, "On one hand we have a candidate who has only been here one semester... and can't be qualified to represent the student body or know the functions and the troubles of the student body. On the other hand, we have a candidate of the clique which is running the Associated Students."

WIDE EXPERIENCE

Redlick offered himself as the best candidate in view of his wide experience in student activities.

Gec Riley, second speaker, opened his talk with a quietly ad libbed "I guess I should start out by saying 'Hi Strangers!'" which brought heavy applause. Abandoning his prepared speech to counter Red-lick's comment, he said, "It's true I've only been here for one semester, but I don't feel a long tenure is a basic guarantee that a student will be well qualified to represent his fellow students... I'll try to serve you if I'm elected."

FINAL SPEAKER

Final speaker, Norry Volk, third

Polls for the election on Thursday and Friday will be located on the old campus in the correction room of the Rec Center and at the new campus in the main entrance to the women's gym. Polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on both days. Results of the election will be announced at the Alpha Omega Barn Dance Friday night in the Rec Center.

candidate for the presidency, said, "I'm running as an individual, representing myself, not as a representative of any specific group no matter how important that group may be. To me there is no such thing as a divided student body. If elected, I will represent those students who voted for me as well as those who voted against me. I will represent 5,000 students, not 50, 100, or 150."—By Vic Spingolo.

Music Educators Meet Here Thurs.

Harold Youngberg, director of music in Oakland, will speak at an open meeting of the S. F. State chapter of the Music Educators' National Conference Thursday, April 24, at 4 p.m., in the Activities Room.

Topic of Youngberg's speech will be "The Latest Thing Among Music Educators in the United States, and International Aspects of Music Education."

The meeting will be open to all those students interested in the field of music education.

EDITORIALS

Responsible Student Government

As usual, a great deal of emphasis is being placed on the presidential candidates in the current election. Because of this overemphasis, voters tend to consider candidates for other offices as comparatively unimportant.

Every office on the ballot is an important one, and voters should be just as concerned about the candidates they elect to these offices as they are about those they elect president.

Members of the Board of Directors hold important and influential posts in the student body set-up, and the qualifications for representatives at large to the board should be considered carefully.

Remember that these people okay the spending of our money, and direct all the activities of the Associated Students. People elected to this board, as well as to other offices, should be people who are interested in the college and not merely in the prestige of office.

It's all a matter of knowing your candidates. That's your job. Remember that the people elected in this week's balloting will be the people you'll be highly critical of next term when they're in office. Unless you show some interest now, by voting intelligently, you'll have no basis for criticism in the future.

Those "Drills" Again

Last Monday we had another of what the college laughingly calls air raid drills. That one, like all those in the past, proved to be a dud. Once again, it was obvious that neither students nor faculty knew just what was going on, and, once again, we had students and teachers reacting to the warning sirens as they would to both an air raid alert and a fire drill.

Since the students have demonstrated on more than one occasion that they can't distinguish between present air raid and fire warnings, this fact should be of great concern to the administration. But apparently it isn't. Suggestions for clearing this confusion have obviously been ignored.

There is no excuse for such confusion during drills since in an emergency it could mean the lives of many of our students. The student body, as a body, should demand a clarification of the air raid and fire warnings. Such clarification is long overdue.

West Europe Aid Debate Question At Recent Meet

The Fourth Bay Area Roundtable of the current semester was held under the auspices of the University of Santa Clara last Thursday evening. The discussion centered around the problem of American economic aid to Western Europe. It was generally agreed that the United States should continue sending economic aid to Europe, but that this charity should be continued with the view toward the stabilization of the national economy of the various divergent nations. It was pointed out, also, that such aid should not be "thrust" upon the non-communist benefactors, but should be given only when requested by the individual nation.

It was also agreed that future monetary remuneration for such aid would be out of the question on the grounds that enforced repayment would result in a secondary collapse of the world economy.

State College was represented by Tom Johnson, Al Nathan, Victoria Gregorian, and Jim Moran.

Tri-Omega, Tri-Gamma Gain On-Campus Status

Two new service groups, Omega Omega Omega fraternity and Gamma Gamma Gamma sorority, were given on-campus status by the Club Advisory Association on April 8, following approval of constitutions submitted by the two groups by the CAA constitution committee.

The Tri Gamma constitution was passed with the stipulation that a service for the group be incorporated in the constitution before the next meeting of the CAA.

The constitutions of both Tri Omega and Tri Gamma were referred to the Board of Directors.

State College Speakers Take Honors At Annual COP Forensic Tournament

State College speakers—Herb Seal, Jack Wendt, Jim Davis, Walt Kintz, Cliff Custer, and Jim Moran traveled to Stockton, under the sponsorship of Dr. Wayne Britton, to participate in the annual Regional Forensic Tournament, sponsored jointly by College of Pacific and the Pi Kappa Delta Forensic Society on April 8 and 9.

Thirty-eight colleges representing the Western States attended the meet. Among these were: University of California, San Diego State, Utah State, Stanford, College of Idaho, Brigham Young University, and the University of Arizona.

FIVE CONTESTS

Five contests were open to participants. These were debate, discussion, extemporaneous, impromptu speaking, and oratory. The topic for debate was, "Resolved: That the United States should adopt a permanent program of wage and price control." Extemporaneous speaking was centered around current affairs issues. The topic for impromptu was the particular vocation of the individual participant. Free choice was allowed for the subject of orations. Each school participated in five debates and, for the sake of versatility, each debate alternated between the affirmative and negative sides of the issue of wage and price control. The panel discussions were held on the issue of the American moral code.

S. F. State placed high in the competition. Cliff Custer, winner of the first prize in a previous tournament at Fresno State, placed in the semi-finals at Stockton. Another Stater, Jack Wendt, went on to place in the finals on panel discussion. Walt Kintz placed in the finals of the oratory contest. His oration was based on the rights, privileges and reinstatement of Japanese-Americans.

SAN DIEGO GOOD

San Diego was outstanding in debate, having placed five of 10 teams in the semi-finals. The University of Southern California placed a team in the finals. Loyola of Los Angeles also fielded a squad in the lower division debates.

State speakers are now preparing for the forthcoming semi-annual student congress which will be held at City College May 3. Dr. Britton anticipates sending four "senators" and eight "representatives" to this model legislative body.

Cadet Dance Band Fills Need, Provides Rec Center Music

By Cec Riley

When the Rally Committee decided to offer weekly afternoon dances to the student body, the biggest problem they had to contend with was where they could find a band to supply the music.

Unknown to the committee, a young and enthusiastic Stater by the name of Charlie Hilder, was busy with plans for the origination of an Air Force ROTC dance band. Charlie, a cadet sergeant, was "hot" for the idea, and it wasn't long before he had contacted a group of cadet musicians.

In the meantime, Fran Ashman, a gal who spends most of her time down Music Alley way, and a member of the Rally Committee, let the members of that organization know what was doing.

The result is that Sergeant Hilder and his boys play each Thursday at the Rec Center as Staters dance to their favorite numbers.

Charlie has the following men under his direction: George Zerkovich, Hank Park, Cliff Meese, Joe Davis, Al Dorius, Travis Daniels, Bob Verran, Dick Simpson, Van Hawkins, Bob Young, Jack Portale, Larry Pastori, and Tod Fleming. All these men are members of the AFOTC, and volunteer their services to the student body.

Charlie and the band are now looking for a girl vocalist to appear with them. Sergeant Hilder hopes to have the singer dressed in a W.A.F.'s uniform as an honorary member of the AFOTC.

Rally Brings S. F. State To Mission High Students

Another of the high school orientation rallies was held last Thursday morning, April 17, at Mission High School.

Some of State's best talent made the trip to Mission for the hour-long show, which was emceed by DeVon Stanfield.

First Stater to perform for the high schoolers was Norry Volk, entertaining at the keyboard. Norry also sang for the group and accompanied Mary Madigan, who gave her rendition of "Embraceable You," and was called back for encores.

A skit entitled "The New Book" brought bursts of laughter and applause. Flo Dawson and Carol Lombard were the State girls responsible for this act.

Doris Kerns, accompanied by the State Dixieland band, did her solo Charleston routine.

Foreign Aid Set For Topic Of NCFA Student Congress

State College is prepared to submit two bills to the forthcoming Northern California Forensic Association Student Congress, which will hold its third semi-annual session at City College on May 3. One bill provides for more effective control over the sending of foreign aid to Spain and Yugoslavia. The first bill would cut the administration of aid to these countries under the jurisdiction of the North Atlantic Treaty organization. The other bill would provide for a more permanent program of American reciprocal trade agreements. The topic for discussion at the congress will be American aid to the divergent countries of Western Europe. The congress will be patterned after the national congress with a senate and a house of representatives. Bob Smirl, associated students president at City College, will preside over the representatives, and Pete Chevrier, former president at City College, will be president of the senate. State speakers Irving Israel, Louie De Benedetti, Lorraine Roach, Bob Hughes, Tom Johnson, Audrey Postman, Ben Mallia, Al Nathan and Cliff Custer will represent State in the house. State Delegation Places Fifth At Model UN Conference

By Jerry Bowkett

When the Model UN Conference came to a close at the University of Southern California on April 5, San Francisco State's Iranian delegation departed with fifth prize for its outstanding representation of a small nation.

Over 1,000 students from 73 colleges and universities comprised the various delegations to the turbulent 4-day meet at which issues ranging from world disarmament to a mock, full-scale invasion of Indo-China by the forces of Red China were heatedly debated.

KREMLIN TACTICS

The Russian delegation (USC) displayed tactics which the Kremlin might well have approved, although at one point it unwittingly concurred in a resolution which would provide technical aid to southeast Asia. Only later was it learned by the delegation that Formosa was included in the aid program.

Russia opened fire at the very outset of the first plenary session of the assembly by denouncing a United States (Stanford) resolution to limit debate to five minutes, a resolution which was ultimately passed. More than once, the delegation was called on points of order by acting president of the Model UN, Benjamin Cohen, assistant secretary-general of the UN.

No agreement was reached on an Indian (UCLA) world disarmament resolution which ran the gamut from the Political and Security committee, Trusteeship committee, and Security Council to the General Assembly and back again. All along the line, tempers and debate flared as delegates lost themselves in their roles.

With the Union of South Africa (Antelope Valley J. C.) threatening to the very end, the UN Trusteeship committee concurred on a proposal that would bring the disputed area of southwest Africa under UN supervision. The proposal was forwarded to the General Assembly, where it was approved.

On the opening day of the conference, the Iranian delegation, headed by Mahammed Kamaly, met privately with the Arab-Asian bloc to create a working alliance. Kamaly convinced the group that their common interests could only be furthered by the weight of solidarity. Out of this session came a unanimously approved resolution which called for UN investigation of the recent arrest of Tunisian nationalist leaders, a resolution which, because of more pressing matters, was not brought up for consideration by the General Assembly.

AWARD WINNING DISPUTE

San Francisco State's dramatic participation in the Security Council's debate of the Anglo-Iranian dispute provided the basis for its conference award.

The first order of business on the Council's agenda was discussion of the admission of new states to the UN. Iran, not a member of the Council, but in attendance because of the proposed consideration of her dispute with the United Kingdom (University of Redlands), sent a note to the Russian delegate requesting that he propose a revision of the agenda in favor of Iran since the Iranian delegate, Kamaly, was "very ill" and would soon be forced to leave.

The proposal was submitted to the Council but was voted down, whereupon Kamaly and aides strode from the session, followed by the Russians. In the absence of the latter, who had opposed admission of new states to the UN, Finland was admitted by the Council, an act which swiftly brought back the Russians.

Upon invitation of the Council, the Iranian delegation returned and Kamaly made an impassioned plea to the body to consider Iran's right to self-determination and quoted Article 2, paragraph 7, of the UN Charter, which stated that the UN has no jurisdiction in the domestic affairs of a nation. The United Kingdom retaliated by quoting the latter part of the same paragraph, which reads: "... providing the domestic affair does not peril world security." It was on the strength of this that the issue was presented to the General Assembly by the United Kingdom.

SURPRISE ISSUE

The "surprise issue" of the conference was the mock announcement of the invasion of Indo-China by forces of the Chinese People's Republic. France's demand for immediate intervention was hotly opposed by Russia on the ground that the invaded area was under the jurisdiction of the Communist Viet Minh government, a government recognized by Russia but not by the UN. After much debate an agreement was reached whereby the UN would send a commission of inquiry to Indo-China to investigate France's charge of "aggression."

Representing San Francisco State and Iran in committee were: Mohammed Kamaly, Armando Silva, and Andy Bisbee (Security Council); Olivia Clements and Jean Martens (Trusteeship Committee); Joe Velardo, Sahib Aljassim, and Joan Schatz (Economic and Social Council); Mertle Alexander, Ken Azbill, Mohammed Saffar, and Elias Nani (Political and Security Committee). Joe de Victoria served as observer for the Associated Students.

DOUBLE-HEADER DROPPED

San Jose Baseballers Cop Both Games in Twin Bill

By Len Ralston

The San Francisco State College nine dropped both games of a double header to the San Jose State Spartans on the latter's diamond last Saturday with scores of 10-3 and 4-3.

The Gator squad will journey south Tuesday night to vie with the University of Santa Clara Broncos in the Mission City. The Broncos are currently in second place in the I.C.B.A. and field one of the better batteries in the Pacific Coast collegiate league.

Coach Boyle used fundamentally the same strategy, placing emphasis on the second game, that earned his team a split with the Spartans in their double header last week. Pitcher Roddy McDowell almost won the nightcapper, allowing only five scattered hits throughout the seven inning contest. He was aided by Cal Larson, who stretched a double into a home run in the seventh inning when a fielder misjudged his throw to third.

In the opener Coach Boyle used Grimes and Casabian against the Spartan's John Oldham, a $20,000 bonus baby. But the San Jose team belted them for 17 hits, while the Spartan ace held the locals to 4 hits.

Line score:
San Francisco 003 000 000—3 4 2
San Jose 020 400 13—10 17 3

Grimes, Casabian (6), and Lenci; Oldham and Del Buono.

Second game:
San Francisco 000 020 1—3 7 1
San Jose 300 100—4 5 1

WAA SNAPS SPARTANS
San Francisco State's girls bested a group of girls from San Jose State in a WAA play held on April 19 at the new campus.

The Gator Dolls scored a clean sweep, taking a victory in the softball game, 10-9, and winning the swimming meet.

State Softballers Win

An S. F. State softball team, playing under the banner of the Jr. Optimists, defeated a Call-Bulletin nine 11 to 10 in a softball game at Funston Field last Friday under the lights.

State Tennis Team Mashes Cal Aggies; Meets Gaels Next

San Francisco State overwhelmingly defeated the Cal Aggies last Friday on the Clement Tennis Courts by taking five out of six singles matches, and sweeping all three doubles matches. In the singles: Alex Swetka defeated Jim Burley (Cal Aggies), 6-0, 6-1; Tony Stratta defeated Jack Hill (Cal Aggies), 6-4, 6-2; Dick Axtell defeated Les Weaver (Cal Aggies), 6-0, 6-1; Art Barker was defeated by Gary Montgomery (Cal Aggies), 6-4, 1-6, 2-6; Jim White defeated Leo Polopolus (Cal Aggies), 6-4, 6-2; and Roger Turner defeated Dave Gover (Cal Aggies), 6-2, 10-8.

In the doubles: Swetka and White defeated Burley and Weaver, 6-4, 9-7; Axtell and Turner defeated Gover and Nickol, 6-0, 6-1; and Barker and Stratta defeated Hill and Montgomery, 6-4, 6-3.

On Saturday morning, April 26, at 10 o'clock, State will match St. Mary's College there.

MURAL NOTES

Swim Finals Set; New Sports Start

The semi-annual intramural swimming tournament will go into its final round tomorrow at the new campus pool at 12:30 p.m. Preliminaries in the seven events were completed yesterday.

Highlighting next week's mural program will be the football pentathlon contest. This affair will extend over a period of two days, April 29 at 12 a.m., and May 1 at 3:30 p.m. Points will be given toward the All Sports Trophy for the winning club.

The five events that comprise the pentathlon are as follows: Pass for distance, 3 throws; punt for distance, 3 kicks; kick off for distance, 3 kicks; pass for accuracy, 3 throws at four targets; drop kick or place kick for accuracy, 3 kicks to qualify.

Signups will be accepted until Friday, April 25, at the intramurals office, new campus.

Signups are now being taken for two sports that will start in the near future. Softball will begin May 1, while volleyball will start on May 6. Any individual or organization wishing to participate in either or both of these activities should contact the intramural office for further details.

Golfers Deadlock Moragamen, 13-13

The golfers fought to a 13½-13½ standoff against the St. Mary's Gaels last Thursday at the Harding Municipal Golf Course. State came in on the short end of an 8½ to ½ score in the first foursome and, as a result, had to rally to finish in a tie.

It was team play that saved the day for San Francisco, as only one man, Al Piparo, won his individual match. Medalist laurels were won by St. Mary's Jim O'Neil, who shot a one under par 71. Jim Coltrell was low man for State with a fair score of 77.

Individual match results were: one win, Al Piparo, 3-0; two ties, George Shaudra and Chuck Andrews, 1½-1½; and three losses, Augie Costa 2-1, Jim Coltrell, 2½-½, and Joe Willis, 3-0.

WAA to Preside at Confab

S. F. State will be the presiding school at the California Athletic Federation of College Women Conference to be held at Asilomar on April 25, 26, and 27.

Dean Dorothy Wells from S. F. State will give the welcoming talk and officially open the conference. Carrie Horvath, president of WAA, is in charge of the affair.

DUNCAN 'MAN OF WEEK'

Gators Use USF as Fodder For This Week's 'Big One'

Sparked by the pole vaulting and broad jumping of workhorse Bruce Duncan, the Golden Gator trackmen ran off with 11 firsts and two sweeps as they trampled USF 86 to 45 at Cox Stadium last Saturday afternoon.

Duncan vaulted 12 feet and leaped 20-11 3/4, both marks his personal bests this season. Other double winners for State were Jim Shettler, who won the mile and the half mile, and Fred Berensmeier, who took the high jump and the high hurdles.

The dual meet was the last chance for State to prep for this Saturday's "big meet" with Nevada and COP here.

Bob Lualhati, low freshman from Washington High, won the 440 in a sizzling 50 flat. Taking the post immediately, he sprinted down the backstretch ahead of his teammate, Vic Gipson, until he reached the only curve, where he relaxed. On the final straightaway he successfully beat off Gipson's challenge. Although several watches had him clocked in 49.8, the final consensus was 50.0.
